Baby Found Alive; Mother Of 7 Is Held

NEW YORK (AP) — The kidnapped Chionchio baby was found alive and healthy Sunday night in a Brooklyn apartment. The infant girl had been the object of an intense search since she was snatched from a hospital 2½ hours after her birth nine days ago.

Police and FBI agents, acting on an anonymous tip, located the baby in the second-floor flat of Jean Iavarone, a 43-year-old divorcee and widow with seven living children.

Her apartment is about 1½ miles from St. Peter's Hospital where the child was kidnapped late Jan. 2.

The child was returned to the hospital. Authorities said she was "in good condition." The youngest baby ever kidnapped here, she was taken before her parents had the chance to have her baptized "Lisa Rose."

Denied Kidnaping

Mrs. Iavarone denied the kidnaping and claimed the child is hers, police said. They quoted her as saying she had delivered the baby unattended in her apartment Jan. 2.

Chief of Detectives James B. Leggett and J. Kenneth McCabe, chief assistant district attorney of Kings County (Brooklyn), said Mrs. Iavarone would be charged with kidnaping.

Mrs. Iavarone questioned the woman for an hour.

Asked what evidence there was to support the charge, McCabe said the footprints of the Chionchio baby taken shortly after birth match those of the baby found Sunday night.

He said that footprints, like fingerprints, are only one of a kind. Telling newsmen of his questioning of Mrs. Iavarone, McCabe said: "She still says it's her baby. She answers questions in a calm voice."

First positive identification of the baby was announced by the FBI, quoting the father, Frank Chionchio, 28, a lawyer for the Port of New York Authority said he recognized the baby on the basis of a "general family resemblance" and a small scar over the left eye he had noticed the night the baby was born.

"I feel very happy" Chionchio said as he left the hospital to rejoin his wife, Frances, 26. She has been staying with her parents in Brooklyn.

The blood type of the baby was identical with that of Mrs. Chionchio, the FBI said, but did not correspond to Mrs. Iavarone's. Leggett said medical examination showed that Mrs. Iavarone did not bear a child nine days ago.

He said the woman took "good care" of the baby. "She had plenty of experience caring for children of her own," he said.

Officials at St. Peter's said the baby weighed 7 pounds, 1 ounce when it was returned to the hospital.

Ohio Policeman Held On Morals Violation

CLEVELAND (AP) — Under orders from the mayor to "go all the way," top officials in the police and fire department today investigated a 15-year-old girl's story she had sexual relations with firemen and policemen.

The girl, who ran away from school in Euclid Oct. 3 and was picked up Saturday night, gave a 3½ page statement at Central Police Station Sunday. Now top brass of the police and fire departments are busy trying to sort facts from the fancy the statement contains.

That there is enough truth to be concerned about in her allegations already has been established. One policeman of only eight

Mikoyan Carries Tour Into American Filmland

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Anastas I. Mikoyan carried his intensive whirlwind goodwill campaign for the Soviet Union into motion picture land today with film industry representative Eric Johnston as his host.

The Soviet first deputy premier attended a dinner in his honor Sunday night at the swank Beverly Hills Hotel. The affair arranged by Johnston, was attended by a select group of leading Southern California business figures.

In the course of a question period, Mikoyan denied that agreements made with the Soviet Union are regarded by the Soviet government as mere scraps of paper.

He thus answered a statement by President Eisenhower, without referring to the President by

3,000 Awaiting Trial

Batista Followers' Executions Mount

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Executions of the followers of former Dictator Fulgencio Batista are mounting in Cuba as the forces of rebel leader Fidel Castro continue hurry-up military trials.

Thus far about 50 Batista supporters have been executed. Nearly 3,000 are awaiting trial.

Asked on a U. S. television program Sunday why the Batista followers were being executed without open trials, Castro said: "There were not so many... two or three dozen criminals."

"They were judged," he said, adding that "if anyone killed 15 or 30 people, he has no right to live."

The interview was recorded in Havana Saturday.

Correspondent Jules DuBois of the Chicago Tribune reported that the mutilated bodies of 160 anti-Batista prisoners were found Sunday in a mass grave on the outskirts of San Cristobal 60 miles west of Havana.

Military authorities in Manzanillo announced Sunday that Cubans will not be allowed to witness the firing squad executions of Batista supporters. But they will be allowed to see the bodies afterward.

The announcement came after a crowd of 3,000 attended the execution Saturday in Manzanillo of six Batista supporters convicted by a military court. The announcement said public executions do not conform "with our culture."

In the television interview Castro repeatedly insisted that the provisional government is being guided by public opinion and not by force.

He said his country is now and will remain a democracy. "We are men of the law," Castro, a lawyer himself, declared.

Castro said on the television program that his impressions of the United States improved last year when military assistance to

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Coy J. Castle of the Damascus-North Georgetown Diagonal Road was damaged by fire Sunday morning at 11:30.

A neighbor summoned the North Georgetown Fire Department when he noticed smoke coming from the house. A passing motorist also notified the Damascus Fire Department.

The Castles were not at home at the time of the fire. Fire Chief Hugh McPherson of North Georgetown estimated $1,000 damage to the building.

He reports the fire was touched off by a coal heating stove.

There was no insurance on the property.

Car Mishaps Leave 1 Dead, 13 Injured

Asa Eddy, 61, Of Sebring Dies As Autos Collide

6 Injured In Crash; 4 Lisbon Youths Hurt As Car Hits Bridge

One person was killed and 13 injured in four accidents on district highways over the weekend.

Asa Eddy, 61, of Middleton Road near Sebring, died of head injuries at 5:55 a.m. today in Canton Mercy Hospital following a two-car mishap at 5:25 p.m. Sunday at the intersection of Greenbower Road and Rt. 225 near Alliance. Five other persons were injured in that crash.

Mr. Eddy was in a car driven by his daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Fay Turner, 17, also of Middleton Road, who failed to stop at the intersection and crashed into an auto operated by Donald E. Whiteleather, 32, of Alliance, the Stark County sheriff's department said.

Injured and admitted to Alliance City hospital were:

Mrs. Turner, head and chest injuries, fair condition.

Mrs. Dorothy Finley, 35, of Alliance, a passenger in Whiteleather's car, chest and back injuries, fair condition.

Treated at the hospital and released were:

Mrs. Turner's daughter, Mary Fay, 2, head injuries.

Donald Whiteleather, lacerations of the head.

His daughter, Debra, 3½, lacerations of the head and left leg.

Another daughter, Patricia Jo, 7, bruises.

Whiteleather told deputies he tried to serve to avoid colliding with the other car. He said he was driving 60 miles per hour, the legal limit on that stretch of Rt. 225.

Mrs. Turner said the last thing she remembered was her father's warning, "Here comes a car."

Deputies said a charge of failure to stop at a stop sign is pending against Mrs. Turner.

Mr. Eddy's body is at the Myers Funeral Home in Alliance pending funeral arrangements.

4 Lisbon Boys Hurt

Four teen-age Lisbon youths were injured at 12:45 a.m. Sunday when the car in which they were riding went off the right side of County Road 816, near Hanoverturn, and struck a bridge abutment.

The most seriously hurt, Barry Pierce, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd M. Pierce of Lisbon, sustained a fracture of the skull and is reported in critical condition in the Central Clinic.

The other youths, the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest E. Martin of Lisbon, are in fairly good condition at the hospital.

Richard Martin, 14, sustained a fracture of the left leg and lacerations of the scalp and face.

Charles Martin, 16, received lacerations of the face and left leg. Because of the youths' injuries, patrolmen were unable to question

Michael DiSalle Inaugurated In Ceremonies at Statehouse

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Democrat Michael V. DiSalle chose a dark business suit for his inauguration as Governor of Ohio at Noon today.

The American-born son of Italian immigrants brushed aside a request for cut-away coat and striped trousers by those in charge of swearing-in ceremonies on west steps of the Statehouse.

His parents, Anthony and Assunda DiSalle, brought the family Bible from Toledo for their 51-year-old son's oath-taking after receiving his commission from outgoing Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill.

The ceremonies marked the high spot in a day-long program of inauguration activities for DiSalle, nearly 40 relatives and thousands of spectators on hand for the big event.

Flags and bunting decked the Statehouse and a stand erected for officials and dignitaries. A canvas canopy offered slight protection from the cold weather.

Preparations were made for some 10,000 persons to witness the ceremonies and listen to music by Ohio State University's famed marching band. Loud speakers about the Capitol and microphones for nine television and seven radio stations were set up to broadcast the speeches.

It also was swearing-in day for other state officials elected with DiSalle in the Democratic election sweep last November.

They were: Lt. Gov. John Donahy of Alliance, son of the late U. S. Sen. and Gov. A. V. (Vic) Donahy; Treasurer Joseph T. Ferguson of Columbus, former state auditor, and Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy of Cleveland, former state legislator.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, only Republican reelected to state executive office, arranged separate swearing-in services for the start of his fifth term.

All will serve four-year terms, the first under a voter-approved change in the state Constitution from two years. The amendment also provided four-year terms for state senators.

The Legislature, under Democratic control for the first time in a decade, returned for the start of its second week of work early in the afternoon.

Here is the inauguration day program arranged by Chairman Simon P. Dunkle of Columbus:

Religious services in St. Catharine's Church.

Veteran's breakfast in the Deshler-Hilton Hotel.

Noon oath-taking from Chief Justice Carl V. Weygant of the Ohio Supreme Court.

Inaugural address followed by singing of the National Anthem.

Public reception in the Statehouse rotunda and other state offices after lunch.

"Stag smoker" by the Press Club of Ohio in the Southern Hotel and a tea for Mrs. DiSalle and others in the Deshler-Hilton sponsored by the Federated Democratic Women of Ohio.

Inaugural ball in Veterans Memorial Building, starting at 9 p.m. Robert E. Wallace, general chairman of the ball, said ticket sales indicated some 5,000 guests would attend to make it the biggest affair of its kind for Ohio.

The DiSalle put up their Toledo home for sale and moved into the state-owned and equipped Governor's Mansion over the weekend. The O'Neills moved last Tuesday into a suburban Columbus apartment.

After attending services in St. Catharine's Church Sunday, the DiSalle's greeted an aerial caravan of five planes bringing relatives from Toledo for the inauguration.

Thirty-eight of DiSalle's 40 relatives promised to be on hand for the festivities. Besides his parents, they included his five children, their spouses and grandchildren.

The DiSalle's four daughters are: Antonette (Toni), now Mrs. Robert E. Watkins; Constance, now Mrs. Thomas Bloomer; Barbara, a teacher employed by U.S. Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois, and Diana a student at St. Marys School in South Bend, Ind. Michael E. DiSalle, a son, is married and they have a daughter. Mrs. Bloomer also has a daughter and Mrs. Watkins a son.

DiSalle turned the election tables on O'Neill to win the governorship. It was DiSalle's first statewide election victory in four starts and O'Neill's first loss in five. Besides one term as governor, O'Neill served three as attorney general

Postal Receipts Set Record Here In '58

Post Office receipts gained $18,562 last year to establish a new record for any one year.

Total receipts for 1958 were $283,474 compared to $269,912 the previous year, Postmaster O. C. Hoover reported today.

May and July were the only months last year which showed less revenue than a year ago.

The postal rate increase, effective Aug. 1, was responsible for the greatest percentage of gain. This was noticeably demonstrated in November and December, when each month showed over $4,000 net increases.

When the postal increase became effective, the service was also increased, Mr. Hoover pointed out. Since December mail has been processed around the clock, seven days a week. Also in December the lobby windows have been open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Previous hour period, and the windows did not open until 8:30 a.m.

Mounted delivery has been extended to circle the fringe area of the city. City routes have expanded to include the Southeast Blvd. section, as well as E. 11th and 12th Streets.

There are 11 city routes, one mounted, five rural, and two parcel post. The post office has 59 full-time employees; and approximately 30 extra workers were hired during the last holiday mail rush.

Steel Notes Tonnage Increase Last Week

CLEVELAND (AP)—Steel mills turned out 2,109,000 net tons of steel last week—the biggest tonnage since October 1957, Steel Magazine reported today.

It came to 74.5 per cent of 1959 rated capacity, another indication that the industry is continuing its steady recovery. The rate was comparable to 78 per cent of 1958 capacity.

Steel producers last year added 6.9 million tons of capacity, boosting the annual figure to a record 147,633,670 tons.

Seven of the 12 districts reported increases.

Wheeling led the rise with a hike of 5 points to 84 per cent of rated capacity. Detroit was up 2.5 points to 96.5 Cleveland up 3.5 to 86.5, Pittsburgh up 4 to 76, and Youngstown up 1 to 65. Cincinnati lost a point to 82.

The metalworking weekly said sheets continue to pace the market as automakers, appliance manufacturers, and other consumers step up their buying or replace winding stocks.

January shipments will be as good as December's or slightly better, Steel predicted. "Delivery promises on cold-rolled products are nearing an average of eight weeks. Hot-rolled sheets still are available on short notice, with leadtime pegged at three or four weeks."

The magazine also noted that "With a good year behind them, producers of galvanized sheets are confident they'll do as well in 1959. Many are booked solid for the first quarter, and some expect capacity operations through the first half."

Pig iron production is expected to be higher than the estimated 56½ million net tons in 1958, but less than the 1957 peak of 78,375,378 net tons Steel reported. It said the growth in consumer durable goods sales is responsible for the improved outlook.

Makers of components—such as bearings, gears, electric motors, springs and diecastings—also are "mildly optimistic about first half business prospects," the publication reported.

Steel's composite on the price of prime grade steelmaking scrap remained steady at $39.66 a gross ton for the third week in a row.

Youngstown Teamsters To Return Man's Dues

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Some 1,700 members of Teamsters Local 377 voted Sunday not to accept dues from Joseph Blumetti, to return what he insisted paying since he resigned as business agent in December, and to re-issue a withdrawal card to him. In their four-hour meeting, the Teamsters also voted to leave in effect a salary cut for five officers who were aligned with Blumetti against John J. Angelo in a factional fight for control of the 5,000 member union which covers Mahoning, Trumbull and Ashtabula Counties. Angelo was voted the title of business manager and given authority over the business agent and other union personnel.

CHECK PASSER CAUGHT

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police say a bartender with a long memory identified Luther W. Williams Sunday—Williams' 63rd birthday—as the man who passed a bad check at his cafe in June, 1956. Police did not identify the bartender, but said he told them: "When you have to make good for checks yourself, you make it a habit to remember faces."

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—An 8-year-old boy, swaggering around a bowling alley with a fistful of money Sunday, aroused suspicions and police were called. Detective James Parker said the boy finally admitted he had just burglarized two homes, taking $100 from a dresser drawer at one, and a $150 watch at the other. The watch and all but $2.60 of the money were recovered.

House Space Committee to Check U.S. Space Race Status

WASHINGTON (AP)—The question of where the United States stands in the space race with the Soviet Union will come under renewed congressional inquiry this session.

Rep. Overton Brooks (D-La.), prospective chairman of the new House Space Committee, said today he could not yet speak for the House group since it had not been officially organized nor his chairmanship confirmed.

However, Brooks said, "I personally would favor holding hearings."

The Louisiana Democrat spoke in an interview against a background of conflict over whether this country is lagging in the space contest and whether it should step up its effort.

The temporary House Space Committee of the last Congress, headed by Democratic Leader John W. McCormack (Mass.), issued a final report over the week-end picturing the Soviets as perhaps 1½ years or more ahead of the United States in space progress.

The space committee saw America's extinction as the likely cost of Soviet victory in the space race. Calling for the utmost national effort, it quoted estimates that even with a thoroughgoing program it will take the United States "at least five years to close the gap."

Vice President Nixon holds a different view, according to information given newsmen Sunday.

Nixon, who sits in top strategy councils, says the United States is ahead of the Soviet Union in developing military missiles and is catching up fast on other phases of the space race.

Nixon does not think more money can be spent wisely on satellites. He blames on the previous Democratic administration what he says is a lag of several years in a U.S. start on developing big rocket engines. Under a massive effort now, he says, this country is fast overtaking the Soviets in rocket power and satellites.

Smooth Things for Handy Man File Care And Know-How

The condition of many of your tools may depend on the presence of just one tool and your ability to use it properly. That one tool is the file.

With it, you can keep saws and bits sharp, garden tools in shape. It's a maintenance tool for nearly all your other workshop aids.

All too often, the tool box boasts one or two files; rusted, scaled with dirt, perhaps even broken.

And they may not be the right types. Using the right file for the particular job is important.

Files are available in a wide variety of shapes, lengths, cuts and degrees of coarseness. The basic shapes are: flat, round, half-round, triangle, square.

A SINGLE-CUT file has single, parallel rows of teeth. A double cut file has rows of teeth that cross each other. Although there are several degrees of coarseness for each type, the single-cut is generally used for finer work.

The asp cut consists of sharp, individual teeth in checkerboard arrangement. This is the file designed for extremely rough work.

The fourth basic cut is the curved-tooth file—curved, parallel cutting edges. It's also used for rough work.

When you ask for a particular length of file recall: measurement refers to the body of the file, not the portion with teeth.

The pointed end is called the "tang," and is the portion of the file that is inserted in the handle.

Never attempt to use a file without a handle. The tang could easily injure your hand.

You need more than one handle and more than one size of handle for your file assortment.

A handle should fit easily without being too loose. It should line up squarely with the file.

NEVER POND the handle. Files are brittle. Tap gently to seat handle.

Although techniques may vary in handling a file for different jobs, there are certain points that are common to almost all jobs.

Pressure should be light and even. Cutting is done only on the forward stroke, never on the back stroke.

Move the file across the work the full length of the file so that it will wear evenly.

If a file slides over the work without cutting, the teeth are probably clogged. As they fill up with chips, they act even scratch the work.

Use a file "card," a brush with short wire bristles, to clean the file. Clean frequently. Never bang the file against a hard surface to dislodge particles. This may chip the file.

ANY MATERIAL you are filing should be supported rigidly, preferably in a vise. Unless the material is pretty heavy, keep the edge to be filed close to the vise jaws to prevent vibration.

In general, if you are filing to remove excess material, start with a coarse file; finish with a finer one.

There are special files with different tooth arrangements, designed for softer metals.

There are special shapes for different jobs—such as filing an auger bit. Don't ask your hardware dealer for "just a file."

Tell him how you intend to use it.

Store files properly. Equip handles with screw eyes for hanging, or rack them.

Don't jumble files in drawers with other tools, for two reasons: Files break easily, and sharp shards of metal can cut you badly when you reach for some other tool.

Teeth are easily damaged by bumping or scratching.

Here's The Answer

QUESTION: I have just finished making a radiator enclosure. It is all wood except for a perforated metal insert in the front of it. It does not seem that we are getting as much heat out of the steam radiators as formerly, yet we want to keep the enclosure for the sake of appearance. What can be done to get the heat into the room? I had thought the perforations in the metal would allow enough of the heat to escape.

ANSWER: Any radiator cover, no matter how well it is made, will interfere with the spread of the heat to some extent. There are two things you can do to cut this heat loss to a minimum. One is to place an aluminum sheet or a piece of aluminum foil in back of the radiator against the wall. The other is to drill a series of holes into the wood at the top of the radiator enclosure and another series into the two wooden sides.

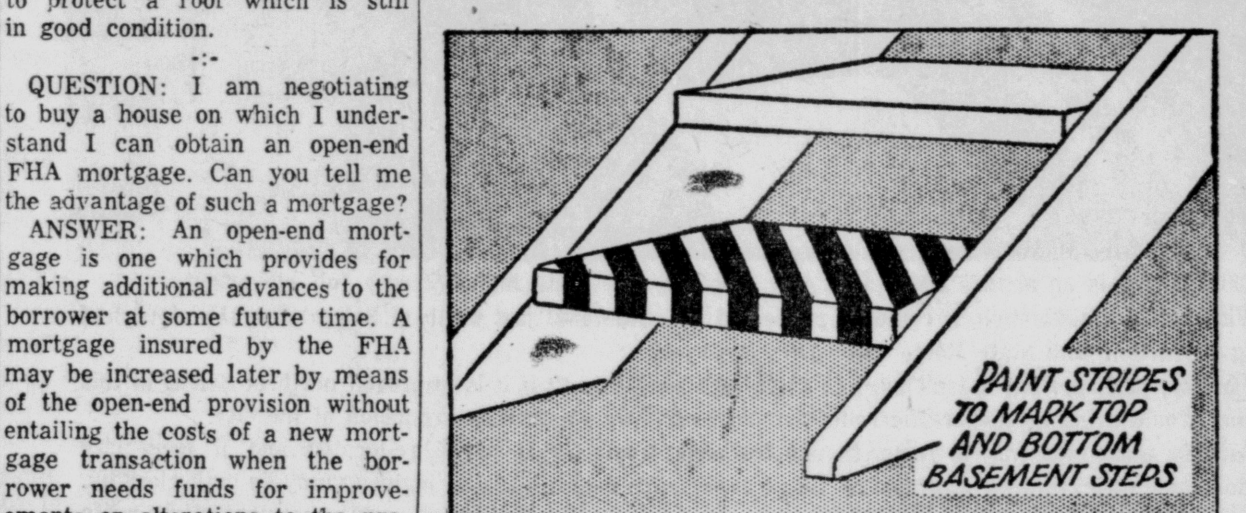

QUESTION: Please tell me the difference between fibered roof coating and fibered roof cement.

Use Paint to Make Hazardous Areas In Home More Visible

Paint is used both for decorative and preservative purposes. But applied in the right places and in the right colors, it can help reduce home accidents by serving as a danger signal and making hazardous areas more visible.

Stripes are the best way to mark the top and bottom steps of basement stairs, using orange and black or black and white. First, paint the entire step the lighter color. When the paint has thoroughly dried, put on masking tape in the striped pattern and paint the exposed area black. The tape should not be stripped off until the paint has dried.

If you feel that such a pattern will detract from the appearance of a finished basement or playroom, then paint the bottom step in a contrasting color that fits in with the general decorative scheme and still highlights the danger.

Brighten Stairwells
Walls of dark, enclosed stairwells throughout the house should be painted white, ivory or yellow—the colors with the highest reflective power—and should be well illuminated. Dabbling the light switches with luminescent paint for easy location is also a good idea.

Where there are small children or elderly members of the household, it's wise to draw attention to all thresholds by applying floor enamel in a color to contrast with the surrounding floor colors.

Garage doors that slide forward and up into the roof of the garage are head-bumpers. A bright hue painted along the bottom edge of the door will be a constant reminder of the hazard involved.

A driveway in the suburbs or country that is not lighted can be outlined by rocks painted with white or fluorescent paints. Gates and posts marking entranceways can be indicated in the same manner.

Where there are low pipes that might spell trouble, they can be painted yellow which has the highest visibility. And industry has learned that painting dark corners white tends to reduce the habit of tossing rags, papers and other litter into those corners.

Red should indicate where the home fire extinguisher is kept. Fuse boxes should be painted with light-colored or luminescent paint, as they usually must be located when the house is dark. The emerges in the home where a little paint will serve as a safety reminder. But there's one article on which paint should not be used—and this, too, is a safety measure. Don't paint a wooden ladder. Use linseed oil or some other clear preservative. Paint will hide cracks that might develop later and thus prevent you from getting advance notice that the ladder is becoming unsafe.

Our Sunday Punch Is Production

The wave of remorse and misgivings that has been washing over American pride ever since the Soviet Union took a commanding lead in cosmic rocketry and proved it could hold it has drowned out a key fact.

The Russian success was the result of two known and freely admitted circumstances.

First was the Russian roundup of the cream of the German rocket experts after the end of World War II. These people were taken to Russia and given every possible inducement to work at top efficiency in their specialty.

Second was the Russian government's early adoption of a planned project of cosmic rocketry. The United States, meanwhile, was working on a smaller scale with military rocketry, using a smaller number of German experts to guide it through the mysteries of a new branch of science.

The impression that this country came off second best in a contest of scientific skill because it lacked the potential know-how and Russia possessed it is only half true. Russia took its skill in the early stages from the Germans just as the United States did.

Thereafter, Russian rocketeers were working toward a fixed goal that even now the United States has not duplicated. It has no cosmic rocket program in the sense that Russia has one. Its primary interest is still military rocketry, and its long-term dependence for the success of that program is still what it always has been — capacity to produce what it has decided to build.

Production was America's "secret weapon" in World War II. It has been the secret of this country's high standard of living — mass production. Even the atomic bomb, on which the United States had a monopoly for a brief time, was not an American scientific secret but a triumph of American production.

If there needs to be a straw to grasp, to save American composure while Russian cosmic rockets are reaching as far as the sun, itself, it is the thought that this country's productivity never has been equalled.

It has borrowed ideas from every place in the world and applied them to its advantage by mass production. It has contributed its own fair share of new ideas in exchange for the ideas of others. And if the time comes when to prove their right to exist, rockets will roll off production lines in America like the American-made automobiles and airplanes that are the world's standards, because they can be produced efficiently in great numbers.

All The Poor Boys from Abilene

"Theories about spending and debt inherited from our small-town past, now being vigorously expressed by the man who was once a poor boy in Abilene, will push us to the wrong conclusion," warns a spokesman for the new philosophy of Happiness Through Spending.

He is David Demarest Lloyd, formerly an administrative assistant to Harry Truman and now the executive director of the former president's library at Independence, Mo. Writing in The Reporter, Lloyd refers to the idea that the federal government should live within its income on a scale commensurate with the people's willingness to pay its bills as a "dying folkway."

The pattern of government spending must change, as it did in the early New Deal, declares Lloyd. There must be something called the "national economic budget," which tots up all the spending the Happiness-Through-Spending bloc thinks would be desirable and then makes a half-hearted attempt to match the total with taxes.

If the taxes are not equal to the spending, however, there is nothing to worry about. The deficit is added to the national debt ad infinitum.

"One of the curious things about the Eisenhower administration," observes Lloyd, "is that it has not made a virtue out of the rising trend of domestic expenditures. Here, if ever, is the chance to outlead the Fair Deal, to point with pride to increased expenditures for welfare, for farmers and for housing as evidence of a Republican concern or the well-being of the people. Such political opportunism seems to go against the grain even of modern Republicanism."

George Humphrey, former secretary of the treasury, is Lloyd's favorite target of scorn and sarcasm, as might be expected. Humphrey was another "poor boy" handicapped by the small-town idea that the people should have something to say about the burden of taxation placed on their shoulders by bureaucrats.

This, then, is going to be the battle of the budget in 1959 — not arithmetic but principle.

The new New Dealers — cross-bred between the old New Deal and the more recent Fair Deal — are preaching the doctrine of the economic budget.

Budgeting no longer is to be a process of balancing outgo and income but a process of deciding what would satisfy the Happiness-Through-Spending faction in Washington and rustling up the wherewithal to pay the bills, adding all unpaid items to the national debt.

"An annual increase in federal spending is inevitable anyway," says Lloyd. "But apparently the annual rate of increase we have had lately is not enough to do us much good." He suggests the budget should be 100 billion by now, instead of the 77 billion the President who "was once a poor boy in Abilene" says it should be and could be.

Fact is, the rest of us Abilene boys think 77 billion is too steep, when it's remembered that we must pay local and state taxes, too. But the further fact is we're not national economic budgeteers — just taxpaying slobs who earn money so the Happiness-Through-Spending boys can get on with their social experiment.

4 Abreast In the Wild Blue Yonder

It has been pointed out so patiently by so many experts that the real issue in the airlines dispute is who will sit in the cockpits of the jet transports that no one doubts their word. They must know what they are talking about.

But the way the issue is being settled is a stiff challenge to credulity.

Instead of two pilots and a flight engineer, which is what the flight engineers' union demanded, or three pilots, which is what the pilots' union wanted, the cockpits will be jammed to overflowing with three pilots and a flight engineer.

If King Solomon had followed this rule in his famous case he would have sent out for an additional baby and threatened to split the difference four ways.

The mental image of the three pilots and the flight engineer sitting four abreast in the cockpit of a jet airplane is bright and persuasive. The creative artists of Madison Avenue must be licking their imaginative chops over it.

All four will be handsome, of course—the clean-cut type, with crisp uniforms and blue eyes crinkled at the corners. There will be the senior pilot, the co-pilot and the co-pilot's co-pilot. The other gentlemen is Mister Abernathy, our flight engineer. He listens for signs of trouble.

But in due course, will not Mister Abernathy, himself, needs a co-listener and a co-listener for the co-listener? There could be two rows of seats in the cockpit if necessary. Madison Avenue could really do something in a layout with six models showing the spirit of the jet age.

Once Over

The trip by three men and a woman by balloon and gondola from the Canary Islands to Barbados shows how desperate people are to get away from parking problems, detergent commercials, traffic jams and dizzy pace.

Mrs. Rosemary Mudie, woman passenger, must be a unique gal. Nothing is harder than to get a woman to go some place by balloon. Husband, Colin Mudie, is either a man of rare force or has a wife who always accompanies her mate on vacation with a sigh of "What would the poor guy do if he couldn't find his eyeglasses?"

Life in our bungalow is pretty boring but our suggestion to missus "Let's take a trip in a balloon" brings the sharp reply, "How nutty can you get?" We explain it would be novel and exciting. She says, "I prefer know where I am stopping each night."

This, Perhaps... or Nothing

(AN EDITORIAL)

This picture is an artist's conception of a proposed new state highway with full cloverleaf.

With a little imagination, it could be re-located U.S. Route 62 just north of Salem with the cloverleaf being a junction with State Route 45 or 14.

Fantasy, perhaps, but it isn't hard to visualize how Route 62 if it is improved north of Salem in this manner would bring needed traffic relief and also encourage a further expansion of the city.

Fantasy must give way to facts, though, because Route 62 is to be re-located and if local city officials and civic leaders continue to speak in Salem's behalf, the new highway may be built close by.

Any failure on Salem's part to maintain close liaison with the State Highway Department might write off our chances of getting any share of the road improvements that already have been started elsewhere in the state. Much groundwork has been laid in preliminary planning and conferences to date, but a change of administrations at Columbus should be the signal for renewed efforts to get the type of highways the Salem district justly deserves.

Battle for Judgeship

By J. G. HAYDEN

A first-class ruckus over high judicial succession is developing in the wake of the elevation of Potter Stewart from the U.S. Court of Appeals for the 6th Circuit centering at Cincinnati to the Supreme Court.

The 6th Circuit embraces Michigan Ohio Kentucky and Tennessee. Michigan is currently represented on the court by Chief Justice Charles C. Simons 82. He was appointed as district judge in Detroit by President Harding in 1923 and advanced to circuit judge by President Hoover in 1932. Associate Justice Thomas F. McAllister appointed by President Roosevelt in 1941 also is from Michigan.

Ohio had two members of the court previous to the elevation of Justice Stewart. The remaining Ohio member is Florence E. Allen appointed by Roosevelt in 1934 and now ranking behind only Judge Simons in seniority.

The two other present members of the court are John D. Martin Jr. of Tennessee appointed by President Roosevelt in 1940 and Shackelford Miller, Jr. of Kentucky named by President Truman in 1945.

Thus of the members of the court today the only Republican appointee is aged Judge Simons.

ALL HANDS AGREE that the successor to Judge Stewart should be an Ohioan. But there are severe political complications. Republicans in the state have split sharply between Donald W. Hornbeck a Cleveland attorney recommended by defeated Sen. John W. Bricker (an aspirant in his own right) and the defeated candidate for governor C. William O'Neill.

O'Neill during a previous service as state attorney general worked closely with Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche now a U.S. senator. But a newly elected Democratic U.S. senator Stephen M. Young has announced that he would declare an appointment of O'Neill "personally obnoxious" which in normal senate practice means that he would have no chance of confirmation.

Bitterness between the two Democratic senators was emphasized on Jan. 6 when Young marched up for swearing in - all by himself rather than accept the supporting arm of his party colleague Sen. Lausche for that function.

Young says Lausche in no way supported him for senator thereby inferentially backing Bricker.

A possibility for the appointment is Bricker who as an ex-senator probably could win Senate confirmation regardless of the attitude of the Democratic senatorial incumbents. But Bricker 65 last September far exceeds the 60-year age limit President Eisenhower generally has observed in the appointment of judges.

JUDGES ARE eligible to retirement at full pay either at age 70 or after 10 years of service. That provision obviously militates against initial appointment of judges older than 60.

Peculiarly as it appeared the appointment of Bricker would be accepted by both Senators Lausche and Young. This is in consonance with the long established shibboleth that no senator should be denied a proffered meal ticket following defeat at the polls.

The Ohio Republican certainly closest to President Eisenhower is George M. Humphrey former secretary of the Treasury. However authoritative administration sources say Humphrey is staying completely out of the court appointment controversy. Particularly the White House denies that Humphrey is supporting O'Neill for the appointment and was instrumental in securing him a meeting with President Eisenhower.

O'Neill did visit Washington and was a White House visitor.

However unlike Michigan's defeated gubernatorial nominee Paul D. Bagwell the Ohio loser did not get in to see the President.

The reason for O'Neill's exclusion from the President's presence it is said is that in an earlier visit with Attorney General Rogers he had disclosed his candidacy for the circuit court appointment. Whereupon President Eisenhower appears to have been tipped off not to see O'Neill.

Over several years past, efforts have been made to persuade Judge Simons to retire. Thereby to make way for appointment of a successor by President Eisenhower. Particularly there was an effort to induce Judge Simons to make way for the appointment of Homer Ferguson to the judicial seat, following his defeat for senatorial re-election in 1954.

But Judge Simons, considering himself still a wholly qualified jurist, is sticking manfully to his post. North American Newspaper Alliance

2 Annual Messages

By JAMES MARLOW

Johnson Gives Own 'State of Union'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Every year now the country is being handed what amounts to two State of the Union messages; one from President Eisenhower, the other from Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, leader of the Senate Democrats.

Before Eisenhower could go up to Congress to deliver his today, Johnson had already stated his. He did it Wednesday at a Democratic meeting.

It's part of American history that at the beginning of each session of Congress the President tells the representatives and senators about the state of the union.

The message is in effect his program for the year. But it's up to Congress whether to make the program a reality with legislation.

Johnson, who denies he has any ambitions for the presidency, seems to be making his message an annual event, too. He did it last year before Eisenhower could travel up to the Capitol. Now he's done it again.

While Eisenhower's message might be considered the senior one and Johnson's just a junior message, both are important and for a very obvious reason:

In a Congress where the Democrats have an overwhelming majority over the Republicans, Eisenhower is going to have to depend mostly on the Democrats to put his program through.

But Johnson, as leader of the Democrats, is in a good position to push for his own program over Eisenhower's if he doesn't like what the President offers. This year, as last, Johnson was critical of the Eisenhower administration's leadership.

The President's message, of course, gets complete coverage by the press and plenty of copies of it are made available. But the Johnson statement was widely distributed, too.

The two messages have one thing in common: They talk in broad, general terms. Eisenhower will follow up his during the year with more details in separate proposals he'll send up one at a time.

But Johnson even beat the President to that idea. Last Nov. 7, right after the Democrats had drowned the Republicans in the elections, Johnson made a speech before a group of Texas businessmen.

Out before he ever got there his speech was all prepared, mimeographed and distributed to newsmen in Washington, thus getting for it a maximum amount of publicity.

Johnson outlined a 12-point program, some parts of which seemed destined to draw Eisenhower's fire and might even be in conflict with what the President had to say in his message today. Johnson called for:

1. A new farm program. (Eisenhower has said he would not propose any change in the administration farm policy).

2. Help for areas of chronic unemployment. (Eisenhower last year vetoed an area development bill which far exceeded his own recommended program).

3. Stepped up water development in the West.

4. Lowering of interest rates that he said were slowing down economic growth.

5. A "bold" housing program.

6. An expanded airport building program.

7. Review of foreign policy.

8. A "consistent policy for Latin America which will help our neighbors to help themselves."

9. Breathing life into the newly created space agency and launching a program to explore outer space.

10. A program to develop peaceful uses of the atom.

11. Urban renewal.

12. Passage of a labor bill to curb racketeers.

This and That

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

This has been a great decade for hypochondriacs. Eighty new viruses affecting the human system were discovered in the last 10 years. And did you know 750 million prescriptions now are filled yearly in the United States?

In ancient days salt was an expensive luxury. Now more salt is sprinkled on icy roads in America than is used on food.

Ever wonder about the milkman's job? Well, the average milkman covers 25 miles a day, makes 125 stops, and delivers 500 containers.

Apt definition: "Tact" says Grace Downs, operator of an air hostess school, "is the ability to make a point without making an enemy."

Tip for housewives: if you place a shoebox top in the bottom of your shopping bag, the bag won't tip over every time you set it down.

During World War II, Americans joked at British fondness for tea breaks. Now more than 60 per cent of U.S. industrial workers have coffee breaks on the job.

Speaking of tea, did you know there are 3,000 varieties of this brew? Like French wines, they are named for the districts where they are grown.

The high cost of loving: "Few things today" says Shannon Fife, "are more expensive than a girl who is free for dinner."

If your dog has an annoying habit of gnawing your slippers or biting his own nails in public, you can cure him by giving him a new canine chewing gum. The seven-inch-long sticks are beef flavored and won't stick to dog, rug, or furniture.

Another new product: a German physician has developed a pill made of yeast and plant extracts which he claims will keep you sober no matter how heavily you drink. Who on earth would want a pill like that?

Odd ruling: if a member of your family has a bad heart and you buy him a special reclining chair, it is tax deductible—but only if the rest of the family stays out of the chair. If a guy from the Internal Revenue Service calls at your home, don't let him sit in it either!

In some Middle European countries during the 18th century, according to a historical study by the Bon Ami Institute, Matrimony held an unusual reward. After marriage a girl no longer had to bathe. Some women today believe a wedding ring gives them the right to show up at breakfast in a sloppy robe and wearing their yesterday's face.

A recent survey of 5,000 American husbands showed that three out of four help their wives with housecleaning chores.

The young generation: "Many a teen-ager has driving ambition," points out actor Walter Slezak. "That's why their parents have to hide the keys to the family car."

Life is so unfair to - men note: a man is considered medically obese if his fat exceeds 20 per cent of his body weight; but a woman isn't regarded as obese unless she is more than 25 per cent fat.

It was Ralph Waldo Emerson who observed: "For every thing you have missed, you have gained something else; and for every thing you gain, you lose something."

INCOME TAX PRIMER:

The Exclusion of Sick Pay

By RICHARD A. MULLENS
Written for NEA Service
(Sixth of 12 Chapters)

If you missed work in 1958 on account of sickness or injury, you may be entitled to a tax break called sick pay exclusion.

Here's how to determine whether you qualify for the sick pay exclusion.

If your employer has a plan or agreement with his employees that he will continue to pay them during absences on account of sickness or injury and during 1958, you received pay from your employer for the period you were absent from work on account of injury, then you can subtract so much of this pay as does not exceed a weekly rate of $100.

IF YOU WERE paid while absent on account of sickness, you can subtract so much of this pay as does not exceed $100 per week after you have been sick for one full week.

However, if your illness is such that you are hospitalized at least one day during your illness, you can subtract up to $100 per week of this pay from the first day of absence.

To claim an exclusion for sick pay, two things must be done: First, the excludable amount must be computed; and second, a statement showing the computation must be attached to the return.

Your employer may furnish you with a computation and statement which you can use to support the exclusion. Most employers, however, will not supply the statements because to do so requires a good deal of extra record keeping. Therefore many employees will be required to make the computation and attach a statement themselves.

THE BEST WAY to do this is to get a copy of Form 2440 from any Internal Revenue office and fill it out. It will provide all the information needed to support the sick pay exclusion.

For example, suppose you were absent from work on account of sickness for 10 consecutive calendar days and your employer paid you $140 for the 10 calendar days, as he had agreed to do as one of your working benefits.

If you were not hospitalized during the absence, then you can subtract pay for only the last three days, or $42. However, if you were hospitalized for one or more days during the sickness, you could subtract the entire $140, since the rate of pay is less than $100 per week. The Form 2440 printed with this article has been filled in to illustrate the latter situation.

REMEMBER that the sick pay exclusion is in addition to several other types of exclusions connected with health and accident plans. For example, payments under workmen's compensation laws are exempt from tax and the same is true for payments under any accident or health insurance paid for by the employee. and before that six terms in the Ohio House, one of them as speaker. Until last year, he never had lost an election. He plans to establish a private law practice.

DiSalle made two unsuccessful bids for U. S. senator and one for governor against O'Neill in 1956 before reversing that defeat last year. Before that, DiSalle was mayor of Toledo, served in the Ohio House and as former President Truman's price controller in Washington.

He broke up a Toledo law partnership and resigned as board chairman of a New York manufacturing firm to become governor at $25,000 a year.

DiSalle's parents came from Italy although he actually claims French descent. His ancestors fled to Italy during the French Revolution.

about 2:30 a.m. He said, "It was an unusually tough fire to fight. There was another house four feet away."

The chief said firefighters had to knock outside doors down to get at the heart of the fire, brought under control in about 30 minutes. "That was when we found the children," he said.

It was one of the most costly fires ever in greater Cincinnati in terms of lives lost. It was exceeded only by the Christmas Eve blaze in 1951 where 11 persons died and the tenement fire of November, 1956, which killed 8.

Lawson estimated damage to the house at about $3,000.

themes that have been stressed during his trip.

He put in a particularly strong bid for removal of restrictions on trade with the Soviet Union and increased Soviet-American trade.

Before going to the Johnston dinner Mikoyan gave another free-wheeling news conference at which among other things, he revealed that former Soviet security chief, Army Gen. Ivan Serov, is now on duty in a responsible post in the Soviet army.

The conference came immediately after his arrival at the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles, where he was driven on arrival at Lockheed Air Terminal, Burbank. Fog at Los Angeles International Airport canceled plans to have his plane land there.

He saw no anti-Communist pickets on his arrival.

Before his departure from San Francisco Sunday, Mikoyan was received by California's new governor, Edmund G. Brown. The governor proposed to the Soviet leader that when the next conference is held between the Soviet Union and the United States, that it take place beneath California's "great and ageless redwoods."

Gov. Brown apologized for the actions of egg-throwing demonstrators at the airport in San Francisco on Mikoyan's arrival Saturday, saying that this was not typical of Californians.

military alliance. West Germany is a member of NATO.

2. In a second note Saturday into an unarmed free city until East and West Germany are reunited. Pending unification, the proposed peace treaty would be made with both the Communist East German regime — which the Western powers have declined to recognize — and the anti-Communist West German regime.

Mikoyan in his talks in Washington and other cities has given no evidence of any weakening of Soviet policy on German questions. If Mikoyan came here with any really new propositions or concessions, the Soviet Union called for resumption of East-West talks on the problem of preventing surprise attack in the nuclear missiles age. The United States responded promptly with a statement saying it favors resuming the talks — which broke down at Geneva Dec. 18 — but wants an agreement with the Soviet Union on the range of problems they should deal with.

Both notes were received at the State Department Sunday. But even before the German peace treaty plan came in, officials said on the basis of a Moscow announcement Saturday that it was clearly unacceptable.

One of the provisions of the Soviet plan for Germany was that West Berlin should be converted into a free city, they are still there, but many U.S. officials feel that he may spring a surprise when he sees Eisenhower.

The basis of this reasoning is that Soviet leaders, notably Khrushchev, have made no effort to hide their dislike of Secretary Dulles. It is felt, therefore, that if Khrushchev had an important card to play he would prefer that the play be made to Eisenhower rather than Dulles.

Mikoyan's visit with Nixon apparently was cordial. Their discussion included a tentative invitation for Nixon to visit the Soviet Union, but the vice president replied that would be difficult to arrange.

IN A COLD STATE

WHILE MANY PERSONS in the United States are complaining about the snow and cold, residents of America's 49th state are enjoying their winter weather. Bundled up in their warmest clothing, our roving photographers came back with these snowy scenes from Alaska. One of the favorite cold weather sports there is winter flying, with skis replacing wheels. Dogteam racing reaches a peak at the February Anchorage fur rendezvous. The main roads, including the Alaska highway, are kept open throughout the winter. That photo of a Russian Orthodox church in Kodiak serves as a reminder of the early day occupation.

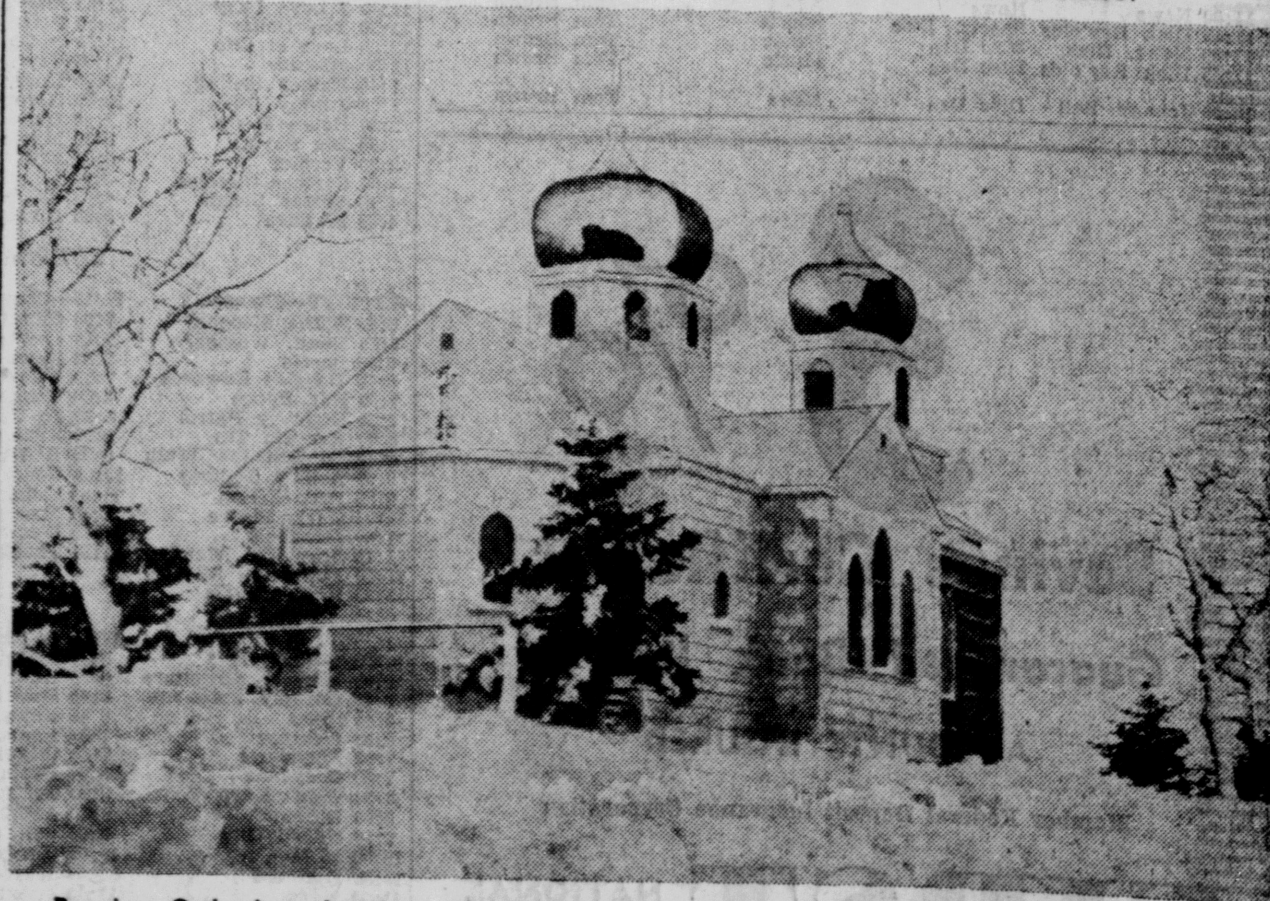

Mrs. Steve McCutcheon watches her husband's plane while he gets ready to fly.

Winter visitors may succeed in getting a ride behind fast-footed sled huskies.

The Anchorage-Seward highway is kept open in winter. Most main roads are also.

Russian Orthodox churches, like this at Kodiak, are seen throughout Alaska.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Shortly after Comrade Mikoyan returned to the U.S.S.R. from the U.S. in 1936, the Russians launched eskimo pies, tomato juice, corn flakes, puffed wheat, grapefruit and frozen corn on the cob. That was the era in which they could learn from us. Times have changed. Within six months after

Not that we don't have an atomic aircraft. We have. We have flown a reasonable facsimile at least 47 times. We have run one on the ground in Idaho for a year.

What we can learn from the Russians is how to keep winning in this new era of the international scientific Olympic games.

For example, from the sources who devote their lives to knowing these things comes word that the Russians soon will do us in inner space — propaganda wise.

THEY WILL LAUNCH an atomic airplane and float it around the world eight or ten times without bringing it down for refueling. They will gently circle Cairo and wing silently over Africa, India and all the doubtful neutrals.

They will then have won the first three big events — the first sputnik, the first lunik and the first aircraft which can fly in inner space forever.

Our industrialists know that the Russians already are practicing with "crew shields" to protect their aviators from the atomic reactor.

They have taken a conventional jet bomber and have added dummies with real nuclear engines and they're flying it for experience.

Soon they will replace the dummies with real nuclear engines and fly the plane under nuclear power. The Russians will beat us, although the General Electric Co. has long developed such an atomic engine at its Evendale plant outside Cincinnati.

There GE could manufacture these engines with their thousands of skilled workers, members of the United Auto Workers and International Assn. of Machinists and their hundreds of engineers.

Under the direction of Executive Vice President Jim Lapierre and Vice President Jack Parker the company has developed the engine after 13 years and a government expenditure of about one million dollars.

GE COULD HAVE put such a plane into the air and impressed the world back in 1953. They were actually cutting the metal for the job. They went to the then Pantagon chief, Charles Wilson. They said they were ready.

He said he can get a chemical fuel plane to fly some 2,000 miles an hour, so why waste money on an atomic plane that flies at 300 or 400 miles an hour? He ordered the company to cut about 1,000 workers off the project's 2,000 man staff at Evendale.

The company simply retained its skilled people in other tasks. And they continued developing the engine. They took it out to the Idaho desert and ran it. They put a reactor in a bomber and flew it out of Fort Worth's Carswell Field. They arranged with General Dynamics to build a frame.

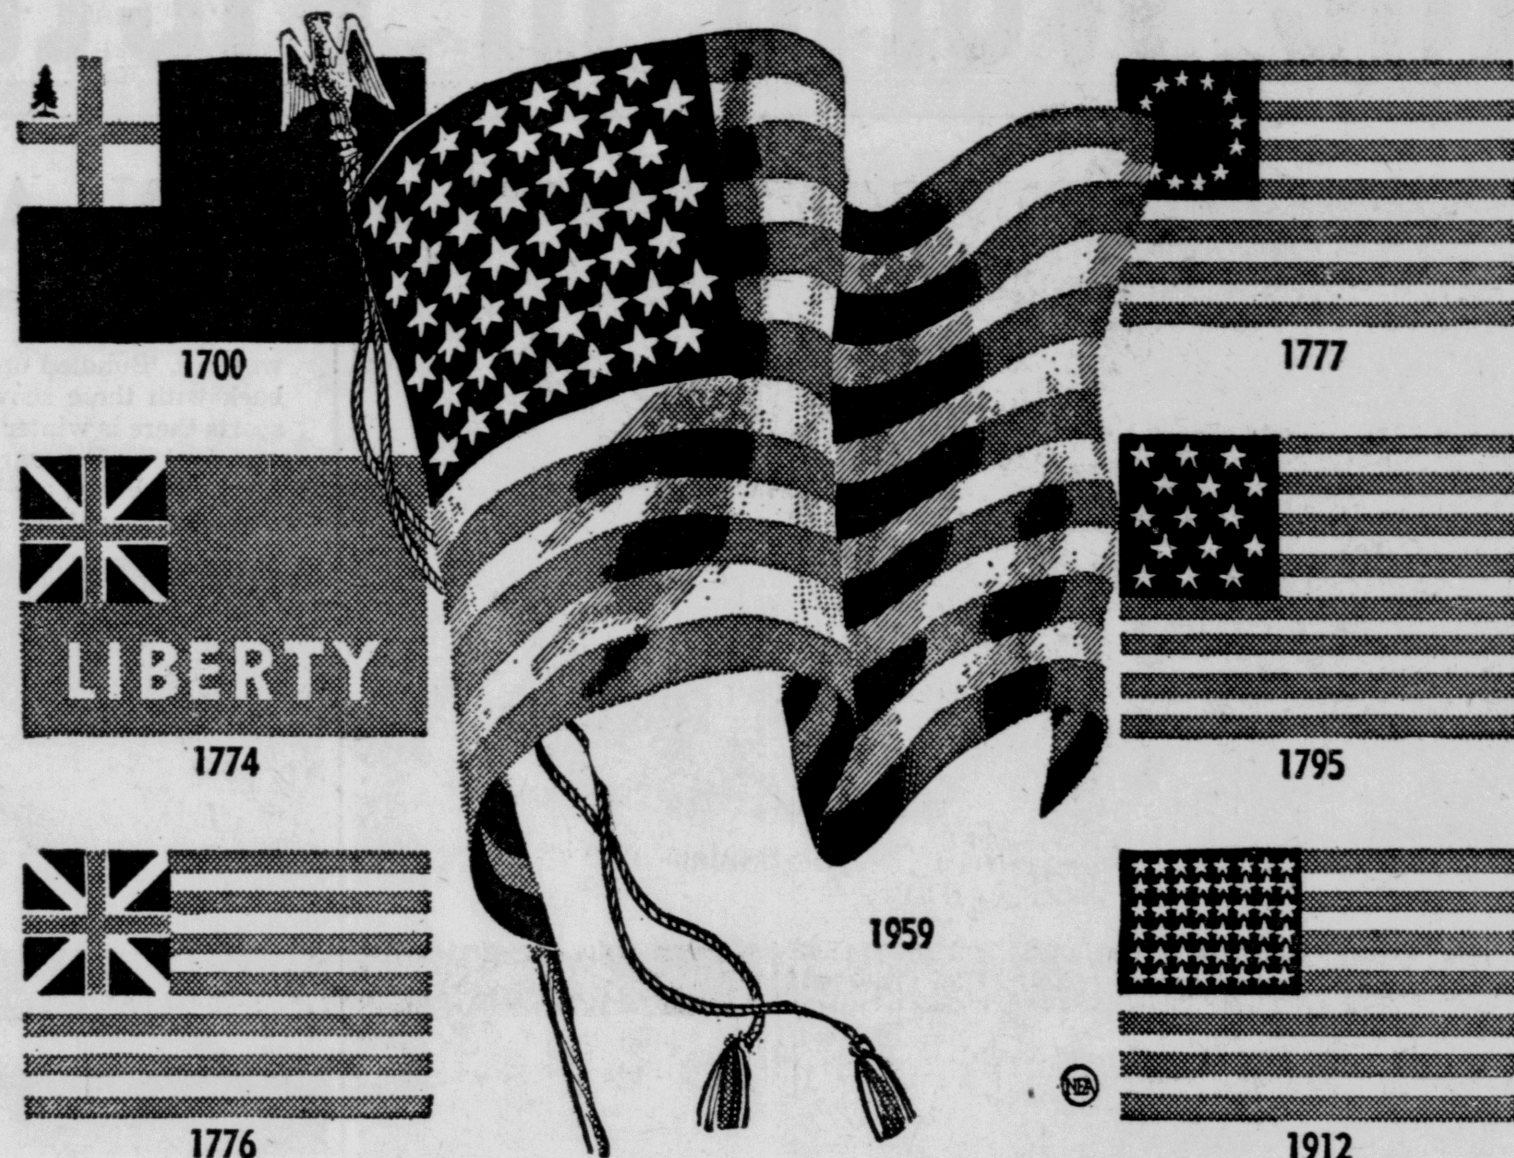

They went to the government again in 1957 to get production orders. The Killian Commission was set up. The commission wanted something to go 3,000 miles an hour.

The GE people said that first we crawl in the skies then we fly high. But let's get up there before the Russians do. The commission said "no." That meant a White House veto.

YET ALL that was needed to win this propaganda victory was a little money. Just some 200 million to 400 million dollars. This is less than has gone into unused spare parts for the Yugoslav army. It is less than we have overpaid the French for swampland and for cutting down trees for our bases.

Furthermore, if they had said

The Evolution of Old Glory

The American flag has been studded with pine trees, carried stars in many patterns, and featured variations of the Union Jack. Some of the milestones in the progress of the banner to its present 49-star design are depicted above.

The New England flag, upper left, designed around 1700 and carried at the battle of Bunker Hill, featured a pine tree insignia. Predating the Revolution by two years was the Liberty flag, hoisted over the green at Taunton, Mass.

The Grand Union flag, featuring 13 red and white stripes, one for each colony, was carried in 1776 by the newly-formed Continental army.

development in a maze of complicated bookkeeping.

So our atomic motor is a kiwi—a capitalistic kiwi. The workers' state, though Red in politics, has no tolerance for red tape in these scientific Olympic games. It will go aloft first. Where are labor, management, the public and all

In 1777, almost a year after the Declaration of Independence, the Continental Congress adopted the "Betsy Ross" banner with its 13 stars and stripes.

Honoring the admission of Vermont and Kentucky, two more stripes were added in 1795. The practice of adding stripes was soon discontinued, and the flag reverted to 13 bars. A star continued to be added for each new state.

The 48-star flag came into being with the admission of Arizona in 1912. It remained unchanged until Alaska's formal entry into the Union this year. The new flag is not official until July 4.

Salem Quakers Crush Ravenna 84-53 For 7th Victory

Locals Make 49.8% of Shots; Marks, Slaby Big Rebounders, Four Quakers In Two Figures

By GORDON ARNDT
Salem's highly devastating basketball machine rolled along in high gear Saturday night on the home floor as they demolished the Ravenna Ravens 84-53 for their seventh win of the season before 1,700 partisans.

It gave the Quakers their fourth straight victory and raised their seasonal mark to 7-1 while Ravenna dropped below .500 to 4-5.

The Red and Black bolted to a 10-0 lead and once twice in the contest did the visitors come close. On two occasions they came within eight points at 14-6 and 32-24 but that was as far as their ability carried them.

Hitting on 49.8 per cent of their field goal attempts John Cabas' band of Quakers literally left the Ravens in a crumpled position in sweeping to their third win of the campaign by a 31-point margin.

SALEM'S balanced scoring once more asserted itself as four Red and Black cagers tallied in the double figures. Southpaw shooting Woody Deitch rimmed 25 to pace the winners while Lou Slaby tossed in 17, Dan Krichbaum 14 and Dave Hunter 12. Eight men scored for Salem in the triumph.

Jon Hay was high for the Ravens with 19 while Bob Cook had 16.

Once more for Salem Clyde Marks and Lou Slaby were towers of strength on the backboards. The Quakers' hot start was instigated by the fact that Ravenna got only one shot at a time. Marks and Slaby would spear the rebound score via the fast break.

Ravenna got only eight points in the first period. They just couldn't dent Salem's tight-checking defense. The visitors were continually forced to shoot from the outside.

SALEM'S effective pressing-tactics also bottled up the visitors. However, on a few occasions Ravenna solved the press with a long pass down court to an open player.

Deitch scored five of Salem's first 10 points while Slaby canned four. With 4:57 left in the first frame Salem led 10-0. Hay then broke the famine for the visitors with a lay up shot. With 2:32 left Ravenna had sneaked back to within 14-6. However, Deitch and Slaby combined scoring efforts to boost Salem ahead 20-6 just before Ravenna's Jim Kuhar ended first period scoring with a brace of charity tosses.

Action in the first period was fast with Salem fast breaking and the Ravens unable to penetrate close to the goal in which they were supposed to score.

With Krichbaum and Deitch sharing in the point production early in the second quarter the Quakers spurred to a 30-14 lead with 4:34 left.

RAVENNA fell further and further behind in the frame because they couldn't cope with the rebounding of Marks and Slaby. On offense the Quaker basketekers time and again drove through the Ravens for an easy pair.

With 4:08 in the half left Salem led 32-16. At this point they went into a lull. The rebounds went Ravenna's way and the Ravens with several long passes managed to solve Salem's press for a few minutes. Cook scored a half a dozen times while Hay tallied twice to bring the Ravens back to within eight at 32-24 with 2:28 left in the half.

Once again the Quakers rose to the challenge and spurred on two points by Hunter and four by Slaby on follow shots to take a 38-24 lead into the dressing room at the intermission.

Salem went into a zone defense at the start of the second half. Ravenna managed three field goals in the first four minutes of the period and with four minutes left Salem led 48-32. Jim Lehwald replaced Krichbaum at the 3:58 post when the Salem floor general obtained his fourth personal.

THE GAME developed into a rout in the last three minutes and 53 seconds of the third quarter. With Slaby and Marks rebounding like demons and coupled with a hot hand by Deitch the vaunted Salem aggregation outpointed Ravenna 13-4 in this span to move way ahead 61-36 as the period ended.

Salem's lineup at the start of the fourth quarter was made up of five juniors. They were Hunter, Lehwald, Jim Solemen, Erick Theiss and Krichbaum.

This combination proved a very formidable group. In the first five minutes of the frame they outscored Ravenna's regulars 13-0 to give Salem a 74-44 lead with 3:48 left in the game. Sharp-passing and shooting by Hunter, Krichbaum and Lehwald paced this Quaker surge. The team moved the ball well and managed to throttle the visitors with fine defensive work.

With 3:48 left Tim Burchfield and Ed Yates came in for Solemen and Krichbaum. At the 3:28 mark Fred Harshman appeared for Hunter while with 1:26 left Cabas had emptied his bench when Carl Dunn substituted for Lehwald.

EVEN in the last three minutes and 28 seconds of the game Salem's three juniors and two sophomores outscored Ravenna by a 10-7 margin.

Theiss, Yates and Harshman added to Salem's scoring total while in the rebound department Theiss and Yates handled most of the chores.

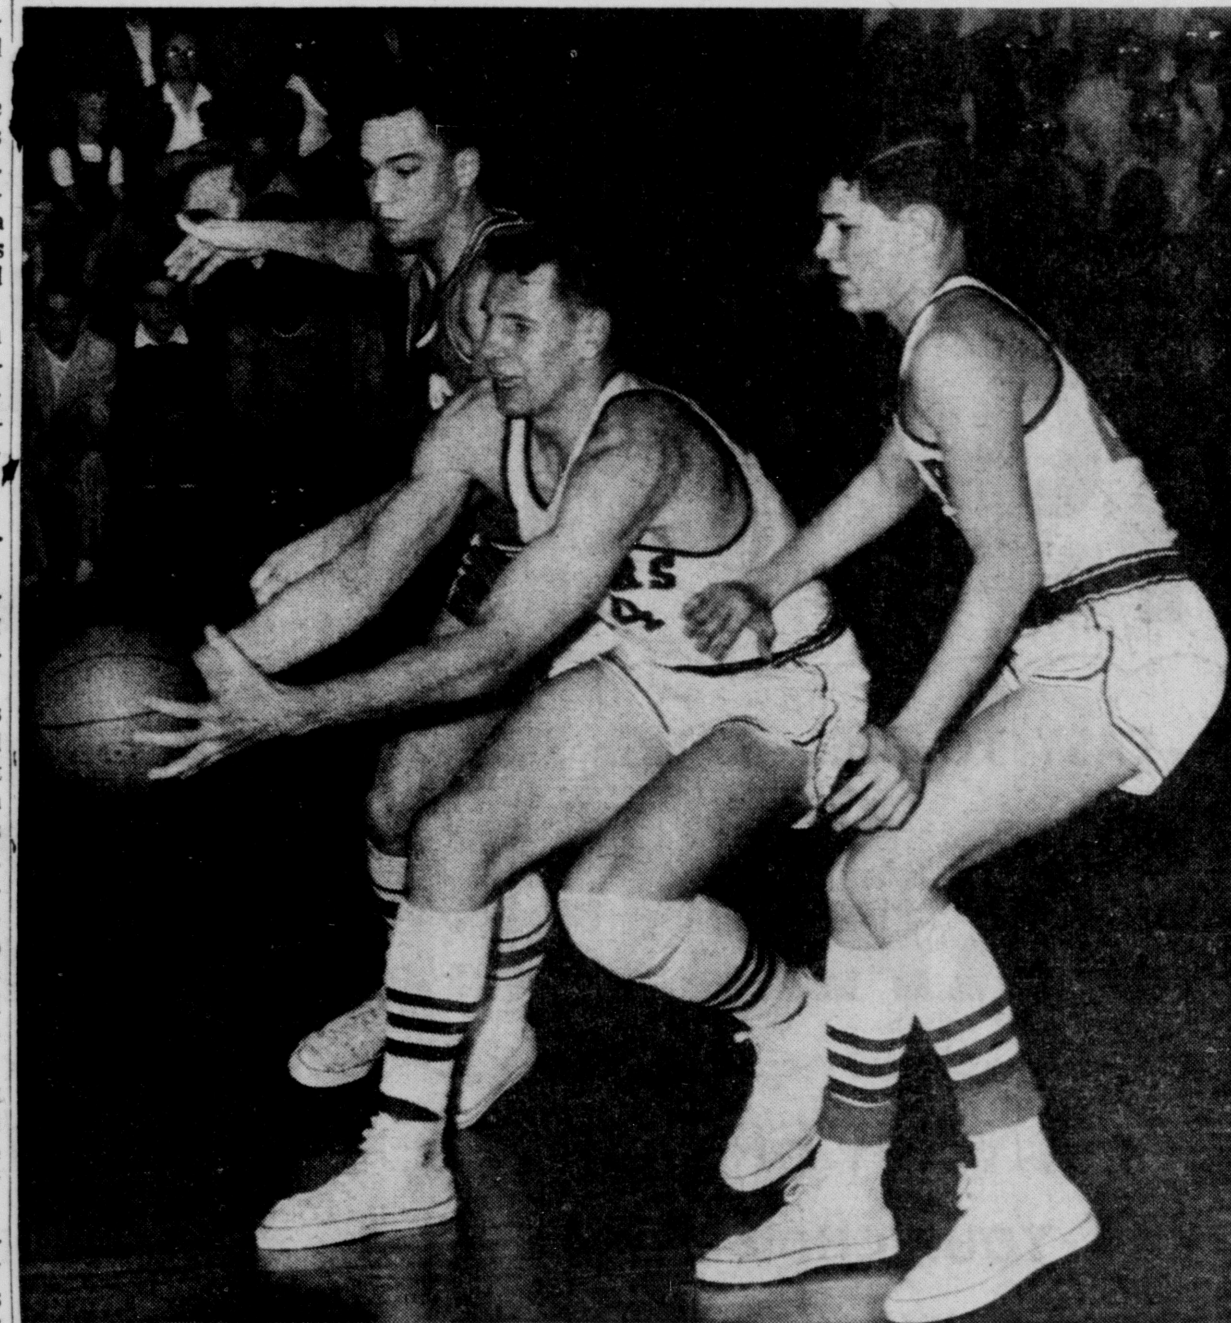

The Quakers made 37 of 75 shots for 49.3 per cent while Ravenna hit on 19 of 58 attempts for 32.8 per cent. Salem made 10 of 18 fouls and the Ravens 15 of 27.

The Quakers won't play again till Friday when they will be at home against Niles. This Saturday they'll play their next to last road tilt of the year at Sebring.

SALEM-RAVENNA ACTION—The competition was fast last Saturday night in Salem's 84-53 win over Ravenna as these two shots indicate. In the top picture Salem's Dave Hunter and Ravenna's Jim Kuhar battle for possession. In the background is Clyde Marks of Salem, No. 52, and Dan Krichbaum, No. 12, of the Quakers. No. 15 for Ravenna is Joel Daunic. In the bottom shot Salem's Lou Slaby grabs hold of the oval as teammate Jim Lehwald and the Ravens' Jon Hay seek to do the same. Salem's win over Ravenna was their seventh in eight starts this season.

Theiss Stars In JV's Win Over Ravenna

The junior varsity basketball team of Salem High continued on its merry way on the home floor last Saturday night as they smashed the Ravenna JVs 78-41 for their seventh win in eight games. It was their best offensive showing of the season so far.

Erick "Bo" Theiss was the big man in the Salem attack both in scoring and in rebounding. The 6-4 junior rimmed 19 points while dominating the rebound department. Fourteen players saw action for Salem and 11 of them entered their name in the scoring column.

Behind Theiss was Carl Dunn with 14 and Harry Fidoie and Tim Burchfield with nine each.

Thomas had 12 and Cipriano 10 for the losers.

Salem led 19-12 at the quarter and 40-25 at the half. The game really became lopsided in the third eight-minute span as the young Quakers broke on top 58-36 going into the final quarter.

Coach Karl Zellers sent all his troops into combat before the action terminated and all but three of 14 Salemites failed to manufacture points.

Springfield Local Dumps Goshen 61-52

Tigers Cop Third Inter-County Victory

By HARRY SAVAGE
Springfield Local broke away from a 30-30 halftime deadlock Saturday night to polish off Goshen Union 61-52 on the Gopher's home court. The victory was the eleventh in twelve starts for Harry Myers' Tigers. Goshen has a record of seven victories and two defeats.

John Sznajkart poured through 21 points to lead the Tigers. The 6-5, 200-pound forward hit most of his points on a left handed jump shot from anywhere from 10 to 30 feet from the bucket. Reed Metzka scored 12 and 6-3 Wally Heck tallied 15 for the victors. Ed Daugherty hit 18, George Wallace 13 and Chuck Brown, 10 to pace the Goshen scorers.

Sznajkart scored the first bucket of the game on a tip in and Springfield rushed into a quick 2-0 lead. Goshen managed to tie the score on five occasions, but the Gophers were never able to grab the lead.

Daugherty hit a jump shot to knot the count at 2-2, but Dick Smith of the Rigers came back with a jumper to push Springfield ahead 4-2. Daugherty scored again, but this time on a tip in, and coach Joe Tucker's quintet had a 4-4 tie.

METZKA NETTED TWO on a drive shot and Sznajkart tipped one in to push Springfield in front by four. Goshen Union matched the Tigers bucket for bucket for the remainder of the initial period and a jump shot by Daugherty made the score Springfield Local 16, Goshen Union 13 as the quarter ended.

In the second period Springfield held onto the three-point lead for the first four minutes. With the score at 22-19, Brown hit a jump shot from the free throw line and the Tigers' lead was cut to 22-21. Jump shots by Heck and Sznajkart of Springfield were sandwiched by a Daugherty free throw and the Tigers had a 26-22 lead with less than three minutes to play in the half.

Wallace connected on a 30-foot set shot and Lynn Barnett a jump shot from the free throw line to tie the score at 26-26. Smith tallied a tip in, but Wallace came back with a jumper and the score was knotted at 28-28.

Metzka drove down the base line and hit a two-pointer for the Tigers with 30 seconds to play in the period. With time running out, Daugherty pushed through a fade-away jump shot and the halftime gun sounded with the score Springfield 30, Goshen 30. This was the last time in the ballgame that the score was tied.

SPRINGFIELD'S Frank Parks opened the third period by sinking a 30-foot set shot to push the Tigers out in front. Heck followed with a rebound tally and Springfield had a four-point advantage.

Wallace scored on a tip in and Brown sank a free throw to cut the margin to 34-33, but three straight buckets and a charity toss by the Tigers made the score 41-33, mid-way through the third stanza.

Tucker's quintet chipped away at the Tigers' lead and the third quarter ended with the score 45-40.

In the final eight minutes Goshen switched into a man to man defense in an effort to halt the Tigers' offensive. Springfield, however, proved to be just as effective against this altered defense. Sznajkart and Smith drove around their men and tallied easy buckets for the Tigers.

With two minutes remaining, Heck scored on a free throw to make the score Springfield 59, Goshen 50. Daugherty dumped in a brace of charity tosses and the score read 59-52 with 52 seconds remaining.

GOSHEN UNION fouled Springfield's Metzka in an effort to get the ball and the 5-11 guard made good on both of his free throws to bring the final score to 61-52.

Springfield Local's next game will be Jan. 16 when they tangle with Lowellville. Goshen will travel to Vienna on Jan. 13.

In the junior varsity contest, Springfield Local handed the Goshen reserves their first defeat of the season by a score of 46-39. Roger Myers hit 24 and Rich Bloomingdale 15 to pace the winners, while Dick Loudon tallied 25 and Larry Shreve 10 to lead the scoring for the little Gophers.

Church Loops Begin Year's Cage Schedule

Two forfeited games on the opening day marred action in the Salem Church League basketball contests which got underway Saturday at the Memorial Building.

In Class F games the Lutherans defeated the Christian B team 23-2 while the Christian A forfeited to the Methodists and the Presbyterians forfeited to the Friends, both by 2-0 scores.

In Class E games, the Methodists beat First Christians 23-7. The Presbyterians rolled over the Highland Christians 26-6 and St. Pauls downed the Friends 40-7.

Trip West by

28-21 Score

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Billy
Wade, who missed the most valuable player award by a fourth quarter pass interception, today took the blame for the West's 21-28 loss in the annual Pro Bowl football game.

But West Coach Weeb Ewbank and his fellow players don't consider the lanky Los Angeles Ram quarterback the goat of Sunday's rough and tumble battle before 72,500 Memorial Coliseum fans.

"We beat ourselves through mistakes," said Ewbank, coach of the world champion Baltimore Colts.

"It was my fault," insisted Wade after the East turned the interception into a field goal and later scored a game-winning touch down.

"I knew it was risky to pass from my own 13, but I wanted to pick up some yardage and then stay on the ground," said dejected Billy.

"I threw that pass right where I wanted it," Wade said in the dressing room. "But Walt Mich-aels (of Cleveland) backed into it and stole it."

Frank Gifford of the New York giants, who beat out Wade for most valuable player, said, "I knew we had the plays. I was just worried about getting possession of that ball toward the finish.
But our defense took it away from them and that's all we needed."

It was the fourth victory in the nine meetings for the East.

Questions and Answers

Q—Why are witches and ghosts associated with Halloween?
A—The ancient Druids believed that on Halloween spirits came out to harm people. They built bonfires to scare such creatures away. From these Druidic beliefs and customs comes the modern use of witches and ghosts in Halloween festivities.

Q—What rare flower which traps insects grows in South Carolina?
A—The rare and unusual Venus flytrap, an odd, insecteating plant, grows wild only in the Carolinas.

Q—What is the name for a tobacco pipe with a flexible stem in which the smoke is cooled by passing through water?
A—The Himalays barren of plant life.

Q—No, because of the wide range in climate a variety of plant life is possible in the Himalayas.

Question and Answer

Today I shall start with a slightly amusing and rather light question.

Q—Please say something about the Adam's apple. Do women have this as well as men? When a person is nervous would it be likely for the condition to affect the throat and cause choking?—Mrs. L. B.

A—The Adam's apple, as it is popularly called, is merely a prominence of the voice box, or larynx. It is more conspicuous in some men than in others, but has no significance from the standpoint of disease. Women are said to be able to talk at least as well as men and so they do have an Adam's apple, but it is not so conspicuous.

When a person becomes emotionally upset, it is not uncommon for the Adam's apple to bob up and down. But this will not result in any serious affect on the throat, such as a choking sensation, through this does sometimes occur under emotional strain.

Q—If an expectant mother had gonorrhea two years before becoming pregnant (and was cured) would it affect the expected child in any way?—Reader.

A—Gonorrhea formerly was a fairly common reason for failure to conceive because of blockage of the fallopian tubes, or oviducts. It is hard to know whether all of the germs responsible are eliminated after treatment.

It is for this reason that almost all state laws require that the physician attending a birth put drops in the eyes of a newborn infant as a preventive measure against infection of the infant's eyes with the gonococcus germ.

Q—I read your article on typhoid fever. If the water responsible for this disease had flourides in it would that stop typhoid fever?—J.B.

A—No. You are probably mixing this up with the process of chlorinating the water supply. This is a measure aimed against the germ causing typhoid fever and similar germ diseases.

Q—I am pregnant and would like to know if there is any danger in taking laxatives?—Mrs. T.

A—Excessive use of laxatives might possibly increase the chances of a miscarriage. However, with the permission of your physician it might be possible to take small amounts of mild laxatives if they are necessary.

Q—Is there any danger in breaking old fluorescent light bulbs?—Mrs. J. R.

A—It depends on how old they are. Some of the very early ones contained a substance known as beryllium which might cause trouble, but its use was discontinued some years ago.

Veterans Guide

By Veterans Administration
Q—Does my GI home loan have to be paid off in full before I can sell my home?

A—Not necessarily. The buyer may assume your GI loan, if he is willing, if your payments are up to date, and if VA determines he is a satisfactory credit risk.

Q—I have a dental condition which is not service-connected, but my doctor tells me it is making my service-connected disability worse. Would I be eligible for VA dental care even though my tooth trouble is not service-connected? If so, would there be any deadline for receiving treatment?

A—If VA finds that your dental condition is aggravating your service-connected disability, you may be eligible for as many treatments as are needed to alleviate the aggravation. You may apply at any time.

Q—I receive a VA pension. I also hold a part-time job which

THIS DIAGRAM SHOWS THE PLANNED FLIGHT of the North American X-15 rocket research ship in the world's first effort to put a man on the edge of outer space and bring him back safely. The 50-foot, stainless steel, man-carrying "bullet" will be dropped from the belly of a modified B-52 bomber at a height of some 40,000 feet above Edwards AFB, Calif. Rocket engines, taking over with a 60,000-pound thrust, will develop a speed of 3,600 m.p.h. During 90 seconds of powered flight, the X-15 will zoom to a height of 100-150 miles above earth. At this apex of flight, the pilot, aided by a highly advanced Sperry inertial guidance system, will maneuver the plane into the correct re-entry position. From there, it will make a gliding descent into the earth's atmosphere, landing at Wendover AFB, Utah, 400 miles from the start.

Eye Ailment Fails to Hamper Billy Graham

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham went ahead with his plans for a world crusade today in the face of advice by physicians to curtail his activities because of an eye ailment.

Graham told reporters that he intends to go to Australia, Indonesia, Malaya, Cairo, Jerusalem and Berlin this year.

He was interviewed after making a zealous talk before the second Combined Texas Baptist World Missions and State Evangelistic Conference in the packed 11-500-seat Memorial Auditorium. Graham's illness earlier caused him to cancel a scheduled appearance at the Dallas First Baptist Church.

"The program may be cut somewhat by doctor's orders," Graham said of his projected tour, "but right now I plan to go."

He had announced previously he would go to Rochester Tuesday for a check-up at a Mayo clinic instead of leaving for the West Coast en route to Australia.

Graham insisted he felt all right but "there's something wrong with one of my eyes."

"But I don't know what it is," he continued. "The doctor told me what it is — a long technical name — but I think he's as confused as the Republicans are these days."

"I spent two days in doctors' offices and about midnight last night I got orders not to preach," he said of his cancelled church appearance. "I don't have cancer. I've had no heart attack; I haven't had a stroke and I'm not blind."

Graham said he will speak today at a luncheon to about 1,100 business men and tonight before the church group.

Graham's father-in-law, Dr. L. Nelson Bell of Montreat, N.C., cabled Australia that the eye ailment is a "rare and serious condition brought on by excessive work, strain and stress."

Dr. Bell said Graham's eye was examined at Louisville, Ky., Friday, where he addressed the Baptist Theological Seminary.

The evangelist told his Dallas audience that the "world must solve its problems quickly," noting that Oak Ridge scientists had told him the hydrogen bomb now is obsolete and that we have much deadlier weapons.

"We are living in a world stricken with conflict, frustration and confusion. We're living in a time of revolutions and they are getting closer and closer to us all the time," Graham continued.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast
Temperatures are expected to average 4-8 degrees above normal. Normal high 5 north 41, south. Normal low 20-24. Colder about Thursday. Otherwise temperatures above normal Tuesday through Saturday. Little or no precipitation over the greater part of the state. Snow flurries near Lake Erie probably Wednesday night or Thursday.
